Project

Photography Policy

The Courageous Steps Project uses pictures to advertise it's events, and showcase it's events. We try to only use photos that are taken only by the Courageous Steps Project.

The Courageous Steps Project recognizes that some citizens who attend these fundraisers, may not want themselves displayed on an image on the Courageous Steps Project website.

We do not address this unless the person confronts us to make that change.

We only put photos that are about the fundraiser/project of the Courageous Steps Project.

Any employee of the Courageous Steps Project, may insert photos about themselves. They only can display those photos on their about pages on the website.

We also do not display photos at fundraisers unless it's a huge crowd of people.

The founder of the Courageous Steps Project will take a valid look at the photos before putting them all on the site.

If you see your face on a image on the galleries part of our website, please email the help desk at: help.desk@thecourageousstepsproject.org
